FUND COMMENTS

The fund rose 2.75% in June, taking year-to-date returns to 8.15%.

The extension of US economic exceptionalism saw the market brush off concerns over trade disruptions even as the Trump administration announced higher tariffs for trading partners effective August.

Equities trended yet higher with the S&P (+2.17%) notching a string of record highs on the back of earnings outperformance; earnings look set to grow 10.4% per Bloomberg, marking the third straight quarter of double-digit growth. US tech was again a key performer for the fund with semiconductors – Advanced Micro Devices (AMD US, +24.25%), Nvidia Corp (NVDA US, +12.59%) – among outperformer amid resilient earnings. Norwegian Cruise Line (NCLH US, +26.04%) also surged amid broad recovery in travel stocks including European peers such as International Consolidated Airlines (IAG LN, +7.73%); EasyJet (EZJ LN, -10.39%) extended its slump however amid expectations of profit misses for the full year. European stocks staged a comparatively mild recovery with the Stoxx 600 inching 0.87% up for the month.

Fixed Income edged up even as the dollar and rates trended higher in July amid uncertainty about the position of FED Chair Powell and higher inflation prints; DXY closed 99.968 from end-June's 96.875 while the 10-year treasury yield closed 15bps up at 4.37%. Compression trades remained the key theme with outperformance seen in holdings of SENEGL (+5.17%), on the back of IMF reengagement, and GHANA (+4.73%), amid faster-than-expected fiscal recovery post restructuring. African corporates Ecobank Transnational and Seplat Energy notes also notched 4.42% and 4.45% respectively amid broad based demand for the high coupon notes.

We maintain a cautious stance heading into the late summer period, which is historically associated with softer market performance. While the geopolitical risk premium – particularly concerns related to trade tariffs - has eased, uncertainty surrounding the Federal Reserve's interest rate policy continues to dominate sentiment. We will be monitoring developments closely with a potential correction on the horizon, as markets fully price in 2 cuts for the year cuts while Fed maintains its hold position.
